

may 2010

TECHNOLOGY

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
25	26	27	28	29	30	1
2	3 What federal agency maintains the National Do Not Call Registry?	4 Which two federal government agencies regulate cell phones?	5 Which federal agency makes sure wireless phones follow safety guidelines limiting radio frequency energy?	6 Software that blocks access to Web sites and content that you may find unsuitable is called:	7 Where can you find files on your computer even if you have deleted them?	8
9	10 Who issues a software license to the end user?	11 The number of points per square inch that graphics devices can represent on the screen is called:	12 One dot on a computer screen is known as a:	13 You put a friend's email address in the BCC line. What does BCC stand for?	14 If a network connects three computers, a file server and a printer, how many nodes are on the network?	15
16	17 To safeguard important items on your computer in case it crashes or there is some other kind of disaster?	18 Television programs designed as appropriate for all children have this rating:	19 The video game rating "E" is intended for what audience?	20 Before being released commercially, software goes through stages of testing. The last stage of testing is known as a:	21 A satellite-based navigational system commonly goes by the acronym GPS. What does GPS stand for?	22
23	24 The basic material used to make computer chips and transistors is:	25 A technology that uses glass or plastic threads to transmit data is known as:	26 The underlying protocol used by the World Wide Web is:	27 A web site's with '.org' at the end of its address is probably operated by what type of organization?	28 In terms of WiFi security, what does WEP stand for?	29
30	31 Memorial Day	notes

